OH pay and benefits 2012
Part 2: working hours, benefits and career prospects
 Paul Suff presents his second article on the results of the fourth OH at Work pay and benefits survey, detailing the responses from 336 OH nurses, occupational physicians and occupational hygienists.
- 20 FEATURE
Motivation at work
Part 2: models of motivation
 In the second part of her series on motivation and workplace health, Karen Coomer examines the leading conceptual models of motivation and work, and their relevance to contemporary OH practice.
- 24 FEATURE
Workplace health promotion
Part 2: public policy, evidence and incentives
 Katie Oakley focuses on government strategy and the evidence base in the second part of her examination of workplace health promotion.
- 30 DILEMMA
What's in a name?
 Andy Gillies, Fellow of the Faculty of Occupational Hygiene, and Adrian Hirst, a senior lecturer in occupational hygiene at the University of Manchester, debate whether the term 'occupational hygiene' is outdated and should be replaced by something more meaningful to those outside the profession.
- 32 EXPERT WITNESS
Who cares?
 Our legal expert Diana Kloss looks at the civil law of negligence and the duty of care, and how it applies to occupational health practice. She reminds OH professionals that they owe a duty to both employees and employers to warn them of potential work-related health hazards.
